About FYI Resources Limited

FYI's is positioning itself to be a significant producer of high purity alumina (4N or HPA) in a the rapidly developing LED, electric vehicle, smartphone and television screen as well as other associated high-tech product markets.

The foundation of the HPA strategy is the superior quality aluminous clay (kaolin) deposit at Cadoux and the positive response of the feedstock to the Company's moderate temperature, atmospheric pressure HCl flowsheet. These attributes combine resulting in world class HPA project potential.
